

ASEAN local container wholesale

Overview

Why are container shipping services in the ASEAN region unreliable?

Container shipping services in the ASEAN region became unreliable, in part because vessels were redeployed to more lucrative Asia-US or Asia-Europe routes. Slow container circulation left the region's exporters with a shortage of empty containers. These issues rippled through port and hinterland operations, causing delays throughout supply chains.

What's going on with Asia's Container Supply Chain?

Over two dynamic days, we brought together the region's container supply chain community to explore the key challenges and innovations shaping the future of ports and terminals across Asia and beyond. From navigating geopolitical shifts to embracing the power of AI and automation, the conversations were bold, solutions-focused, and inspiring.

Are empty containers a problem in ASEAN?

Many Member States have struggled to access empty containers throughout the pandemic. ASEAN does not currently have any shipping container manufacturing capabilities. Allowing international vessels to move empty containers has helped facilitate their repositioning, but this still requires one-off licences in some Member States.
