Overview

Does Austria have a reliable electricity supply network?

Austria has a highly reliable electricity supply network – thanks mainly to a diversified mix of energy sources which ensures that generating capacity can be put to optimum use at any time. This section of our website tells you everything you need to know about the Austrian electricity system.

What if Austria didn't have electricity?

Taking wind, biomass and solar into account, renewable power generation rises to more than three-quarters of the country's total electricity production. Austria's last coal-fired power plant closed back in 2020. Without electricity, modern-day life would grind to a halt.

How many wind turbines are there in Austria in 2023?

In 2023, 1,426 wind turbines were in operation in Austria. The percentage of hydro power in renewable energies was 30.4% in 2023. Source: Innovative energy technologies in Austria. Market development 2024.

Does Austria have a high-voltage transmission system?

More than 30 countries form the integrated system, and Austria is one of them. High-voltage lines transmit electricity over large distances, and national transmission system operators (TSOs) work around the clock to ensure that the system remains in equilibrium. Plans are in place to make the European electricity network smarter in the future.
