Overview

Can solar energy be used in wastewater treatment?

The work within SHC Task 62 shows solar energy's great potential in wastewater treatment. Nevertheless, there is still the need to take further action. Using separation technologies such as membrane distillation in combination with solar process heat represents an innovative leap in the industry.

How does solar energy affect biological wastewater treatment?

Electromagnetic radiation emitted by the Sun as sunlight encompasses ultraviolet (UV), visible and infrared (IR) spectral components. In biological wastewater treatment, bacteria cannot directly utilize solar energy for metabolic degradation of pollutants, as sunlight exposure introduces operational challenges.

Can solar thermal collectors be used for wastewater treatment?

Applications in various industrial sectors for solar water treatment. One research focus area of the Task was the combination of solar thermal collectors with technologies for wastewater treatment. This work aimed to create an innovative and, above all, economically attractive solution for industry.

Can solar technology improve wastewater treatment efficiency?

Incorporating solar-driven technology into a bioreactor notably improved microbial activity and proliferation through enhanced photothermal conversion and heat transfer, leading to markedly increased biological wastewater treatment efficiency.
